Terms & Conditions for sellers looking to participate in the garage sale:

- We reserve the right to not accept anything we deem not store appropriate or not in the “spirit” of the gamer garage sale.
- The following items may not be accepted into the gamer garage. Please check with us if you have any specific questions or items you are unsure about.
 - Clothing
 - Handmade, crafted, or designed items.
 - Items that are damaged, not working, or in unplayable condition.
 - Books & Dvd's that are not game related.
 - Multiple copies of the same game.
 - Single or bulk CCG's (Collectible Card Games) like MTG, Pokemon, Yu-gi-oh.
 - Please check with us about unopened/ sealed/ shrink wrapped items you may have.
- You must note on the box (post it note) if there are missing items, damages, or pertinent information the buyer would want/ need to know.
- All Items must be priced. Due to the size and nature of the garage sale we are unable to facilitate buy one get one or 3 for $2 scenarios.
- Loose miniatures need to be clearly labeled and in either a sealed container or ziplock bag.
- Please download the Garage Sale Inventory list and fill it out completely (Game name & price) before bringing in your items to the store.
 - Please write legible or bring in a typed form. We must be able to read the form clearly to accept your items.
 - We will provide tags (stickers) for labeling seller # and price on the items. These labels will be removable (Avery #55160 repositionable). If you want to provide your own labels you may. However if they come off during the sale your item will be set aside and not sold.
 - A seller number will be provided to you when you bring in your items. A completed seller form and signature are required before we will accept any items.
- Store credit will be applied to your account following the Garage Sale. Please ensure you provide us with your first & last name, phone #, email address, and if we have you under a different name in our system.
 - Please allow us 3 days following the garage sale to reconcile the sale and gather your remaining items back together. We will email & call letting you know when your items are ready for pickup.
- You will have 2 weeks from the point we contact you letting you know your unsold items are ready to pick up your items. After the two weeks any unclaimed items will be donated, discarded, or disseminated at our discretion.

Terms & Conditions for the Garage Sale:

- All sales are final. Firefly is not responsible for damaged and missing items, or buyers remorse. However if you have an issue please let us know as we may be able to contact the seller and look for an acceptable solution.
- Garage sale items may not be purchased with store credit or held.
- Garage sale items are not eligible for customer rewards.
